The Enlisted Association of the National Guard of Tennessee (EANGTN) is a professional organization that represents the nearly 13,000 Tennesseans who proudly serve their state and nation in the Tennessee Army and Air National Guard. EANGTN is an affiliate with the Enlisted Association of the National Guard of the United States (EANGUS). Together, we have forged an organization to work together with the senior leadership of the Guard, public officials at all levels, and industry to pursue mutual goals. EANGTN has the contacts and the credentials to be effective at the national and state levels. EANGTN members serve as leaders on many national taskforces and committees. Because the Tennessee Army and Air National Guard have such varied and important missions and weapons systems, we have input across the spectrum of defense and reserve policy issues. Each year, at its annual conference, EANGTN considers scores of resolutions to address issues of national and state importance. These resolutions shape the legislative priorities for EANGTN for the year ahead. Many resolutions considered at our annual conference have been enacted as federal and state laws. Resolutions addressing national issues go forward to EANGUS for consideration at their annual national convention. EANGTN sponsors an annual briefing for the Tennessee Congressional Delegation in Washington.
